

Vacates Grid Slips

the Cougars' across-the-tracks move, stole the show once again in defeating the Wolf-pack.

The sophomore-laden forward wall set up both BYU touch-downs as Howard Condie, 215-pound tackle, recovered a fumble on the eight, and end R. K. Brown stole a Lobo patchout and raced 21 yards for a touchdown.

Dalebout, another lineman, connected on both conversions to give him a season average of nearly 85 per cent.

With BYU nursing its two-point edge late in the game, the Cougar line once again came through in the clutch as they stopped New Mexico's foot short of the goal line and helped block a field goal attempt from the six.

Tired of the gridiron doldrums, BYU began its rags-to-riches move two years ago when Harold Kopp—who had lifted Rhode Island out of football mediocrity—was hired at Cougarville.

The energetic Kopp launched a successful talent-recruiting campaign, as evidenced by two outstanding freshman teams and the varsity's jump from seventh to second place in the Mountain States Conference, best BYU finish in 16 years.

In the game against the Lobos, New Mexico took a 6-0 lead in the first quarter on a 68-yard drive featured by the running of Don Perkins, the league's leading ball carrier. The "Puck scored again in the third frame after a 55-yard march.

She has been featured soloist under the baton of such eminent maestros as Mitropoulos, Ormandy, Stock, Sevitsky, and Barbirolli. Miss Iturbi has been very successful on tours through Europe and Latin America and in extensive recording, radio, television and motion picture performances.

Pay Shekels Early; Avoid Long Lines

According to the Cashier's office, only 202 students have paid tuition for winter quarter since fall re-registration. To avoid lines at the Smith Fieldhouse on registration days, students are encouraged to pay fees before Christmas vacation.

'Non-Registrars' Face Long Admittance Lines; Procrastinators Pay Price for Waiting—Crandall

Students who want to combat long registration lines should file registration cards in the registrar's office before Dec. 11 to receive registration permits.

"Few students have as yet completed this procedure," according to Bliss H. Crandall, dean of admissions. "If students continue to delay they will encounter much waiting in lines."

Pre-trial registration cards are available in Registrar's office in basement of Maeser Bldg.

They must be filled out and approved by the student's advisor before Dec. 11.

New students and former students not enrolled autumn quarter may register according to alphabetical schedule upon presentation of green or yellow admittance slips.

These students should advise Admissions office of their plans to return. Otherwise they will not be permitted to register at the regular time Jan. 3 and 4, and will have to pay a late fee Jan. 6 or later.

If permits to register or admittance slips are lost, a duplicate may be obtained at Smith Fieldhouse on registration day, but this will cause delay.

Each student should remember that more than one-half of their classes may be in the afternoon, unless special permission is given by his dean or the chairman of general registration.

Students Spend Summer Visiting Europe, Austria

by Lee Hammond
Daily Universe Feature Writer
Peace will come only if we learn to lessen our proud Nationalism and strive for a United Europe.
This expression comes from people of Austria and was heard in some places behind Iron Curtain, according to Elaine Jacobsen, Brigham Young University coed, who spent last summer in Europe.
MISS JACOBSEN is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Olsen, 1328 N. 9th East. She is sophomore transfer student in Utah State University. Alta Jacobs of Ogden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Jacobs, also spent abroad last summer.
The two women participated in an "Experiment in International Living" by staying with Austrian families for nearly six months. The girls called the people they stayed with like a daughter of the family. Living as a member of the family enabled them to observe socially the people and their hopes, work and play.
"PEOPLE ARE the same everywhere," states Jerry, "Whether behind the Iron Curtain or in United States, people make best of life using whatever opportunities and conditions are available."
The study student may take advantage of this privilege to travel study abroad, as did Jerry Albert, through a private organization called Experiment International Living. This group has agencies all over the world and exchanges about 750 students each summer. Purpose is to give insight and understanding of other countries and better international relations.

JERRY and Alberta began their experiment on June 21, by train to New York. Their interest was heightened by a tour of the United Nations Building.
In the S.S. Waterman they spent seven stormy days out of it crossing the Atlantic to Germany. Holland. They took train across Germany to Vienna, Austria, their destination.

The families who met the girls were bubbling over with friendship, warmth, and enthusiasm, as are nearly all the Austrians, people, according to Miss Jacobsen. She also said: "The people seem happy and expressive with their new-found freedom from the subjugation and oppression of occupying powers."
MANY of the young fellows are wearing long sideburns and racing recklessly on motorcycles, mimicking Marion Brandt in "The Wild One," which was shown in Vienna.
Three days were allotted to the girls by the Russian officials to visit Prague, Czechoslovakia, behind the Iron Curtain. "Everywhere we saw the repression of free speech and the lack of personal pride in the people," said Miss Jacobsen. "The shops and stores looked drab and gloomy with very little of the bright lights and colorful displays and advertisements characteristic of the U. S. Hardly anyone would talk to us and everyone looked at us suspiciously."

Japanese Man Tours Campus On Recent Visit

Mashahida Kosaki, a Japanese industrialist, recently toured Brigham Young University campus during his visit with LeGrande Holland who works at the BYU Press.
Kosaki, a doctor of science, represented Surinomo Metals at the World Metals Congress in Chicago. He stopped in Provo to visit the Hollands on his way back to Japan.
He met them when they were in Japan a year ago. Mr. and Mrs. Holland and son Lee went to Japan when Mrs. Holland received a Fulbright grant to teach and lecture at Nagoya High School. They knew Mr. Kosaki well, as he was vice president of the high school Parent-Teacher Association and became a regular house guest.
He stayed in Provo three days and while here went to Brigham copper mine. He is general manager of the copper division of his company. He was interviewed in the contrast between open pit at Bingham and Japan's underground copper mines.
